New Divisional Offices Opened In New Castle

U.S. Steel Subsidiary Moves Officials Of Division To City

Divisional offices of the Pittsburgh Division, Michigan Limestone and Chemical Company are now located in New Castle.

Effective today the industrial relations, accounting, sales, and legal departments of the company are transferred from Pittsburgh to New Castle and added to the operating and engineering offices which have been here.

H. Ward Lewis, manager of operations for the company said today 12 department heads and assistants have been moved from Pittsburgh to New Castle and nine additional employees from New Castle have been added.

In Johnson Building

Divisional headquarters will be in the Johnson Building at the corner of East Washington street and Neshaminy avenue where operational offices have been for years. Additional offices have been taken over in the building to accommodate the departments which have been moved here.

The Michigan Limestone and Chemical Company is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation. In January of this year the Pittsburgh Limestone and Chemical Company and the Michigan Limestone and Chemical Company were merged into a single operating company with executive offices in Detroit, Mich. Divisional offices are located in New Castle, Rogers City, Michigan, and Buffalo, N. Y. Operations managed by the Pittsburgh division include a limestone quarry at Hillsville, a dolomite quarry in Millville, Va., and underground limestone mines at Boyers, East Brady and Worthington, Pa.

Contractor on Route 422 east of the city has not notified the state highway department to block off the Rose Point bridge in order that they might complete some work there. When the work is received, the giant structure will remain closed for two days. The work is to be done when the weather clears up a bit.

Work started on the new telephone building and the new Central Presbyterian church and work to be started soon on the Jameson Memorial hospital addition, sidewalk superintendents will have plenty to watch and "supervise" during the coming summer months in the local area. Other building work is in the offing.

Work on excavating at the site of the new Bell Telephone Company building on South Mercer street is progressing rapidly. It is discovered also that start of work on the building structure will remain closed for two days. The work is to be done when the weather clears up a bit.

Pa. News notes that "old man weather" played havoc with a retaining wall along a property along a North Hill street, over the week end. The wall five or six feet in height and thirty or forty feet long was nicely laid out flat on the sidewalk, as a result of weather conditions.

Police Officer Foils Attempt To Break Into Safe In Store Here

Officer Hillers Captures Two In Burglary

Surprises Trio In Attempt To Rob Meek Jewelry Safe

A package of meat for Sunday dinner, plus alertness, resulted in the arrest by Patrolman Peter Hillers of two burglars at 10:40 p.m. Saturday in the office of Alderman J. C. Kennedy, East Washington street. A bullet fired by Hillers missed a third burglar, who escaped through a rear door. The burglars had all preparations made to rob the safe in the Meek jewelry store on East Washington street, police say. However, they were caught before they could break into the safe.

Charges Made

The arrested men, who have been charged by Police Captain W. C. McMullen with burglary before Alderman J. C. Kennedy, gave their names as Mike Tools, 41, 1237 Herd avenue, Lakewood, Cleveland, and Elmer Gallina, 26, 1860 Ansel road, Cleveland. The identity of the burglar who escaped is unknown as yet.

Hillers had purchased some meat for Sunday dinner and put it in an inside room of Kennedy's office, intending to get it when he went off duty at 11 p.m. At 10:40 p.m. he entered Kennedy's office through a front door, and en route to obtain his meat noticed a hole in the wall from Kennedy's office to Meek's store. As repairs are under way at Kennedy's office, he made a further investigation.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York lost his temper today over the first questions put to him by Senate investigators about "Murder, Inc." and his old friend, Frank C. Balis, a former police official.

After a long preliminary statement outlining his career, O'Dwyer touched on the investigation of "Murder, Inc." while he was district attorney of Brooklyn, and a "perfect murder case" which his office failed to prosecute.

U.N. Assembly To Meet In Paris

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 19.—Top U. N. officials and delegates today are completing plans to accept the French government's bid for holding the 1951 general assembly session in Paris.

Indications are that the sixth assembly, probably meeting in October or early November instead of September, will be confronted with the necessity of a long-range settlement of the Korean problem. In 1948, the assembly created the "Republic of Korea" at its third annual meeting.

The growing belief at U. N. is that in view of an apparently approaching military stalemate in the vicinity of the 38th parallel, the battlefield situation as a whole will have become clarified by October and leave the assembly free to tackle the political problem.

PARIS, March 19.—(INS)—Western delegates sources predicted today that there will be secret behind-the-scenes talks with Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko this week in an attempt to break the deadlock over an agenda for a foreign ministers' conference.

The big four deputies have been unsuccessful in the past two weeks in working out an agenda for such a conference that would be acceptable to the Western delegates and Soviet Russia.

Saturday the deputies of the U. S., Britain, France, and Russia wangled for nearly three hours at their 12th meeting in the Rose Palace, but broke up without making any headway.

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, March 19.—(INS)—All units of Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's international army were warned by the Eighth Army commander today to prepare for Communist counterattacks even greater "than those so far confronted and conquered".

His caution was contained in a message to all units of his army highly praising their meeting of the difficulties of the winter campaign. He said the forthcoming spring season carries with it the threat of even greater enemy challenges.

President Is Working On New Message

U. S. SUB BASE, KEY WEST, Fla., March 19.—(INS)—President Truman worked today on the message he will send Congress calling for streamlining and strengthening defense mobilization powers.

The president is expected to send his defense message to Capitol Hill around April 1. He seeks restoration of some of the broad powers of executive emergency action granted the late President Roosevelt in the second world war.

Virtually all these emergency powers were voluntarily relinquished by President Truman a few months after the end of World War Two hostilities.

Powers Requested

Some of these powers were requested again by the president last summer in the emergency of the Korean conflict. Congress granted some last September, but refused others.

Specific requests will include more powers to deal with prices and wages and particularly with the complex question of farm parity prices.

The president will confer again by telephone at 11 a. m. with his top congressional leaders on the progress of legislation on Capitol Hill and on new proposals he expects to make to the Congress to smooth out bumps in the defense mobilization program.

Major Battle Contact Broken Off By Enemy

Censorship Clouds Details Of Activity Of U.N. Front Line

By LEE FERRERO
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 19.—Tank-powered United Nations patrols, hurtling several miles north from five springboards 17 miles below Korea's 38th Parallel, smashed varying Red resistance today in a man hunt for the enemy's main forces.

Probing the new defenses of a swiftly withdrawn foe who broke off major battle contact, armored UN columns fanned out along the three principal highways above liberated Seoul. They also jabbed up the mountain roads leading through central and east Korea to the Communist north.

Percolating through a tightened U. S. Eighth Army censorship, a Monday night dispatch from Seoul said an American tank-led patrol encountered and dispersed a Red platoon north of the newly liberated Korean capital.

Ten Miles Above Seoul

The field dispatch, filed by International News Service War Correspondent Don A. Schanche, said the enemy platoon was supported by artillery and mortar fire and that the action took place two miles south of Uijongbu. The latter important junction lies 10 miles above Seoul and 17 miles south of Parallel 38 which once divided Korea.

In the sector northwest of rubble-choked Seoul, Schanche related, a South Korean patrol "routed" an unknown number of Reds above the road which leads 24 miles northwest of Kaesong, just south of the controversial parallel. On the third main road beyond Seoul—the rail-highway artery leading 45 miles northeast to Chunchon—another American reconnaissance tank force was hit by Chinese mortar fire and also encountered mines Schanche reported.

Spring Arrives On Wednesday

Wednesday, March 21, may sound like another ordinary day, but is it? Spring, with everything it means, will arrive in New Castle around 5:28 a.m. Wednesday. Spring, with her green grass, budding trees, blossoming fruit trees, spring flowers, warm rains and spring fever, just to mention a few things, will open officially 59 minutes before sunrise on Wednesday.

The technical explanation for the spring season is simply it is the moment when the earth's axis is at right angles to the sun. The continuing warm days are because the tilt of the earth will continue in a direction that enables the northern hemisphere to have more and more sunshine and longer periods of daylight.

Someone's confused on this weather I think, or someone's mislaid the instructions, you're never quite sure just what the day brings, at least those are my own deductions. It threatens the northern rain starts to fall, and then we are threatened with some of the stuff that hit in November, recall? Which proves, so it seems, that the spring is mixed up, it is moody, it's cheery, it's gay, and Wednesday Miss Spring is booked for her bow, but it's cool, 47 today.

Officer Hillers Captures Two

After examination and found another hole cut from the lavatory in the rear of Kennedy's office into Meek's store.

Burglars in Store

No one was in the lavatory at the time and the three burglars must have been in Meek's jewelry store.

The patrolman slipped to a telephone and called Constable Howard Hanna of the third ward, who was on duty at the county jail and told him of the circumstances.

Hanna said he would arrive at the office within a short time.

There were no lights on in Kennedy's office.

Hillers slipped quietly to the rear of Kennedy's office and heard some men talking in the lavatory.

Pulling his service pistol, he commanded the men, whom he could vaguely see, to come out, with upraised hands.

He walked backward toward the front of Kennedy's office, threatening to shoot if the men didn't obey his command to follow him.

One of the three men made a break to escape. He fled through a rear door.

The patrolman fired a .38-caliber bullet at him, but apparently missed.

He forced the remaining two, Toolis and Gallina, to sit down, while he telephoned for assistance to police headquarters.

Constable Hanna arrived and Hillers had him handcuff the two men, who within a few minutes were taken to the city jail by police who arrived in cruiser cars.

Crawled Through Holes

An examination of the holes was made and it was discovered that the burglars had crawled through the holes into the jewelry store and had all their tools except an acetylene tank and oxygen tank in the jewelry store. The tools were behind the Meek safe.

The tools, which were brand new, consisted of: acetylene tank, oxygen tank, two sets of gauges, three new torch tips, large piece of canvas, one set of goggles, two large bars, one small bar, one brace and two bits, two large screwdrivers, two chisels, one hose wrench, one hammer, one small saw, three gloves (to prevent fingerprints) being found.

When quizzed by Lieutenant Jack Thompson and others at police headquarters, the pair said they had met the third man, who escaped, in a Youngstown bus station. They said they did not know his name but gave a description of the escapee to police. They said they had come to the city at 7:30 p. m., parking their green 1947 Dodge auto in Croton avenue near North street. The third man escaped in it, because it has not yet been found.

When Cleveland police were asked for information concerning the men, the police said both men had been "in trouble" in Cleveland.

The Meek jewelry store was robbed about six years ago of some thousands of dollars worth of jewelry in the same manner as the arrested men apparently planned to do Saturday night.

STATE MUST RAISE NEARLY $163,000,000 NEW REVENUE

ted to embrace a one half of one per cent state income tax and a corporate net income tax boost from four to five per cent.

A one per cent boost in the corporate levy would yield about 44 million dollars a biennium leaving approximately 120 million dollars to be picked up via the other tax.

The budget message will clarify the extent of the civil defense appropriation which Fine will recommend. It is understood it will not exceed 25 million dollars for the two year fiscal period.

The tax and budget programs will herald acceleration of the legislature's work but lawmakers currently see little chance of final adjournment until around June 1.

Delay Reapportionment

Congressional reapportionment, required by law unless Pennsylvania's 33 congressmen are to run at large in 1952, is expected to be put off until a special session early next year. Legislative reapportionment, a task which has not been done successfully in 30 years despite a requirement of the constitution, probably will be postponed until another session.

New Parliamentary Tactics

Something new in parliamentary tactics has emerged today from the steady, determined campaign by Winston Churchill to heckle and tire the Labor government out of office.

Prime Minister Attlee may order the House of Commons closed early in reprisal.

It may seem a trivial thing in the light of the enormous issues at stake in the Conservative-Laborite tug of war. But frequently it has been a small thing that has set in motion the chain reactions of history. It is not without reason that "all for the want of a horseshoe nail" has become a common-sense, a cogent expression in every language.

Conservative Strategy
The present Conservative strategy is to challenge the Labor government on everything conceivable issue and force night-long sessions as often as possible.

This is to the disadvantage of Labor in general, for many members have jobs outside Parliament which they must maintain to augment their small salaries from the government. Many of the Conservatives, on the other hand, either have private means or are in professions which do not require early rising.

If Attlee proceeds with the plan to ask the House to pass a rule closing the bar early on debate nights, the Conservative members who like their stimulants will be the chief sufferers.

The average Laborite, being a member of the working "class," as it used to be known, prefers beer to whiskey or brandy.

Beer Below Dignity
But beer is a little below the dignity of a Parliament which started calling itself "the most exclusive club in the world" long before the U.S. Senate was in existence.

So the Laborites drink tea during the weary hours of debate that now ranges from prayer books to petroleum.

Despite its revolutionary aspects, threatening a custom many decades old, a move by Attlee to shut down the bar would stand a good chance of passage.

There are a sizeable number of temperance supporters in the Conservative ranks who in such a case might vote with Labor. The latter, of course, would support it avidly, not necessarily out of conviction but because the government supporters would have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Difficult Time
It seems quite evident the difficult and uneasy time the Laborites have undergone since assuming office has taken and probably will continue to take a heavy toll among important government officials.

Former Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is but a shell of his former self and some Laborites possibly have endangered their lives by climbing out of influenza sickbeds to be on hand for a crucial vote.

And now Attlee is going into a hospital himself for a checkup. He suffers from ulcers. Late hours and administrative worries are not conducive to recovery.

The Conservatives still have a long list of items left that they plan to use in debate to the government's disadvantage. To answer in debate successfully, the Laborites must have their best men on tap at all times or risk being caught napping on a vital point which might cost them dearly.

May Force Election
Belief is growing that Churchill may succeed in forcing an election perhaps as early as May and there are definite indications of mounting Conservative strength.

Tory headquarters is brimful of confidence and right-wing newspapers never let a day pass without predicting the government's early demise and listing chapter and verse why it should be tossed out of office.

Thus far, Attlee and his supporters have managed to hold on grimly. So their "prohibition" plan may prove to be a vital one. The Conservatives can hardly cry "stab in the back" and risk popular disapproval of too great attention to the bar and too little to the nation.

It is a situation that could arise only in Britain's House of Commons on the Thames.

YARD GOODS

Do the women still buy yard goods as they did in mother's day. It's been years since I have seen them, bolt and bolt upon display. Mother had a way to measure without a rule or tape in strips. A yard was from her nose tip to her outstretched finger tips.

I can't recall statistics for the dresses mother wore. Or how many yards she needed. Was it two or three or four? But was it silk or satin, I was made to understand. A yard was from her nose tip to her outstretched lovely hand.

I still can see her do it. As a boy I'd sit and stare. For precisionists in business I am sure she didn't care. Let them measure to the fraction. Nose and arm, full length would do. That was still a yard to mother, though it lacked an inch or two.

What has happened to the counter where the yard goods were displayed. And the tier of shelves behind it with the bolts of every shade? Time has ended many customs and no longer, I suppose. A yard is being measured from the finger tips to nose (Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

For a few hours last week something went amiss at our house . . . the western scene was forgotten and just that old fashioned age was re-enacted. The snow did it . . . guns were put away or at least forgotten for a spell and the snow suit and rubber boots took over. All the brothers and sister took part in the change of tempo . . . as snowmen were brought to being in the front yard.

King of the cowboys . . . now, or at least then, master snow builder . . . worked alone while his companions and relatives spent time in the halls of learning. His creations must have been most interesting for the hours of undisturbed work were many . . . and the surprise that he handed the boss of the household, (depending on how you felt at the moment, as to the degree of pleasurable surprise) was most unusual.

Perhaps we should have taken up psychiatry to understand the signs . . . when the snowman and the doctors have questions too. Remember last week it was the six shooter in the deep freeze . . . well, since the snow man building took over, you probably are thinking that all would be preserved for July. Not the case . . . the snowman was so cold that he was brought indoors and neatly tucked away in a nice warm closet . . . muffled and all. Not to be discovered until the poor fellow had almost lost his life and attempted to "ran" from his cozy corner.

Four year olds make a house a home . . . but there are times when swishing the broom and mop to remove some of the ideas that develop in a small mind leads to bringing into use that old and tried "hickory stick." Yes, it was snowmen last week . . . again it's cowboys . . . Wouldn't it be wonderful if he takes as his idol this summer a plain gardener.

P. S. . . The little boy around the corner has neatly stacked away five dozen snowballs in the family deepfreeze . . . threw out the lima beans to make room.

Washington Calling

Conditions In V.A. Hospitals

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Quietly and effectively without benefit of sensational headlines an investigation has gone forward here that could produce greater good than the more publicized spectacles. That is the inquiry conducted by Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota into the medical policy of the Veterans Administration.

So much has gone awry here as standards of administration have dropped that events with tragic implications occur and yet are hardly more than noted in the news. That applies to the recent action of Veterans Administrator Carl Gray in removing Dr. Paul Magnuson as VA medical director. Few have realized that thus with one stroke a major gain achieved only after the most painful and difficult effort was wiped out. That this is no small matter is shown by the ever increasing population of the VA hospitals and the constant pressure on Congress to provide more beds.

45,000 Mental Cases
On February 20 there were 98,961 veterans in Veterans hospitals, 8,092 in non-veteran hospitals. Of the nearly 99,000, some 45,000 are psychotics, that is to say mental cases, which says a lot for the terrible toll that war takes. Nearly 20,000 veterans, all but 135 of them suffering from disabilities that have no direct connection with war, are waiting to get into veterans' hospitals.

The irony in what has just happened is that President Truman, himself, gave the original go signal for much-needed reforms in the VA. The President has boundless admiration for the courage and honesty of his fellow Missourian, General Omar N. Bradley. When Bradley came home at the end of the war, Mr. Truman asked him to take a very tough, disagreeable and probably thankless assignment.

Had Deteriorated
The Veterans Administration had deteriorated and especially on the medical service side. Veterans' organizations with their great political pull had virtually taken over the direction of the hospitals. Their officers demanded and in many instances got special privileges.

But more serious was the isolation of the VA medical service from the whole stream of research and progress in modern medicine. Underpaid doctors worked in a musty bureaucratic dead end. The few good men who stayed in the service did so out of a sense of duty.

With full authority from the President without regard to politics of any kind, Bradley went ahead with one of the hardest tasks in a career that has not been noted for its softness and ease. He had Major General Paul R. Hawley as director of medical services. Cooperating with him was Dr. Magnuson, one of the country's leading physicians with wide contacts with medical research throughout the country. This was the team that shook up the old moribund bureaucracy and brought modern medicine practices to the VA hospitals.

Recognizes Need
Bradley recognized that the medical director should have independence of action in his field. But his successor as VA administrator, Carl Gray, did not see it that way. While Gray made Magnuson chief of medical service, friction grew up between them over decisions that Magnuson felt were properly in his province.

The climax came when the administrator fired Magnuson and replaced him with Admiral Joel T. Boone of the Navy. Boone was physician to Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

In the course of the closed hearings conducted by Senator Humphrey, General Hawley gave a remarkable statement praising Magnuson and strongly urging that the medical director be given independent status. This was the testimony of all the experts. Unfortunately, most of the veterans' organizations sided with Gray in the intervening period, of course they have not had the commanding position as they held prior to the reforms initiated by Bradley.

When he ended the hearings, Humphrey declared that VA medical services must be free from any outside interference. The medical director must have a clear line of control under the general supervision of the administrator. This was a complete vindication for Dr. Magnuson.

But what can be done to get it is something else. Humphrey hopes that Gray will issue an order giving the medical service autonomy. This waverate relationship built up by Magnuson with the deans of leading American medical schools. But legislation specifically providing for an independent service is the only real safeguard.

Neither move will bring back to public service a man who had given much out of a sense of duty. Such losses are irreplaceable and they are rapidly adding up to a dangerous erosion in government.

State Police Say:
Official signs are erected all along all highways for the guidance and protection of the motorists, but for some reason or other a large number of drivers consistently disregard the warnings embodied in the signs. Last year state police apprehended 10,801 drivers for improper passing; 35,975 were apprehended for exceeding the speed limit. How else could the motorists be warned of hazardous conditions and other regulations than by the use of warning signs? It is your duty to look for and obey them.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

Patriots First?

WASHINGTON, March 19.

Clearly the Truman Administration has miserably and inexcusably muffed the vital problem of inflation. If, as conceded, inflation is our greatest enemy, then we have weakly yielded to this enemy, permitted it to inflict immense damage upon us, dangerously slow down our defense effort as well as greatly add to its cost.

The time when this enemy could have been effectively dealt with was eight months ago when the national emergency was first proclaimed and Congress overwhelming voted Mr. Truman full powers to control wages and prices. The President then called upon all the people to make "sacrifices" in the national interests and the country was ready to do exactly that. But calling is all he did. His words were not matched by deeds. There is no secret about the reason. And there is practically no dispute about it, either.

The simple fact is that the only opposition to wage stabilization last summer came from the leaders of organized labor, with whom Mr. Truman and his political adviser, Chairman William Boyle, are closely linked politically. These leaders would tolerate no interference with their fifth wage-raise drive which had already started and which was inevitably inflationary in its nature. As a result of their attitude, Mr. Truman failed to use the power given him and the wage drive went ahead with tacit Government support and approval. In the following months there was a general increase in wages and, of course, a corresponding increase in price. The cost of living reached new heights and billions were added to the cost of defense. Following this Mr. Truman finally moved to do what he should have done eight months before—to wit, appoint mobilization, wage and price administrators.

Having held the nation back for a long period until they got what they wanted, it then seemed reasonable to expect the labor leaders to turn to and co-operate in the defense program. But that is exactly what they did not do. On the contrary, the announcement of the wage and price administrators marked the start of a so-called "wildcat" strike against the railroads that almost brought the nation's industrial machine to a standstill. Pleas by Mr. Truman and War Mobilizer Wilson went unheeded until concessions were made. Before the men went back to work a lot of damage had been inflicted.

But that was not all. After the strike that tied the railroads up had been called off, the labor leaders themselves went on strike—in effect, against the Government. They bolted the Government board on which they had equal representation with the public and industry, because they could not secure agreement to a lot of unreasonable and ridiculous demands. Then they withdrew from the entire defense organization and began a vicious campaign of misrepresentation against War Mobilizer Wilson, who opposed giving them control over the whole manpower situation. Rejecting Mr. Wilson's offer to name a labor man on his policy committee, they proceeded to make various stipulations and conditions until the exasperated Mr. Wilson, returning from a conference with the President, said: "I'll be damned if I know what they want."

No concealment was made that the main thing they wanted was to force Mr. Wilson, whose ability is outstanding and conceded, out of his controlling position. For this there seemed no other reason—except that he would not knuckle under to them when he knew he was right. There is no way successfully to dispute the above statements. The record clearly bears them out, and the only dissent comes from the labor propagandists who indulge in their customary vituperative and unfounded accusations.

Considering these facts, the flat statement made by certain PRO-CIO columnists that "it is fortunate for the country these labor leaders are patriots before they are labor leaders" is shocking. The reverse of that is true. The great trouble is that they are labor leaders before they are patriots. That is what they were in the last war when they violated their "no-strike" pledge hundreds of times. And that they are now, when they are dragging their feet as we prepare for another war. To pretend that they are now putting the interests of the country ahead of their own is a fraud upon the people. Yet that was exactly the pretension of the rat-eyed, smug Mr. Reuther on his television program last week, and that is exactly the attitude of all the rest of the labor leaders who will gather here next week for their big demonstration against being treated as are all other citizens. Their further contention is that they are concerned only with "principles" and that "personalities" have nothing to do with their fight. A more utterly false and phony performance has not been seen in a great many years.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"DiMaggio's 'Decision' To Quit In '52 Stuns Stengel and Weiss." So reads a headline in my newspaper.

A lot of people are wondering why a man who makes $100,000 a year and is apparently in the prime of his profession should think of quitting.

But I think Joe DiMaggio is smart, and I also think that Joe Louis would have been much smarter if he had quit when quitting was good rather than to keep on fighting, a shadow of his former self.

However, poor Joe Louis couldn't help himself. I suppose he feels that it is better to be an object of pity than of charity.

There will never be a finer character than Joe Louis the fighter, but a good fighter is not necessarily a good businessman. Let us hope, for his own sake, that Louis will now save some of his fight-money and not, as he has been, continue to be a sucker for a lot of sharks and hangers-on.

If DiMaggio can afford to quit, I hope he will stay with his tentative decision.

He will then be remembered some day as the "great Joe DiMaggio" and not as "poor Joe, the has-been."

Naturally, George Weiss, general manager of the Yankees, and Casey Stengel, manager, are "stunned" by it.

But is it for DiMaggio's sake or for their own?

DiMaggio will be thirty-seven years old this fall. He has been playing baseball since 1932. He has been breaking all sorts of records and his salary is the highest in baseball history.

But, according to Dr. Sidney

Gaynor, the club physician, Joe's legs have been bothering him for the past two seasons, and his knees swelled up toward the end of both seasons.

If he played a better game last year than the year before it was because Joe DiMaggio is Joe DiMaggio—a man of iron will and almost miraculous stamina.

Most of us think, when we are young, that our energy and our possibilities are inexhaustible. We imagine that we can go on forever.

And so the majority of us don't think of that day when TIME calls a halt and says "Enough!" Then, instead of being the needed, we become the superfluous.

Instead of being the wanted we become the tolerated.

Our employers, instead of depending on us and promoting us, begin to wonder when the heck we are going to get out and make room for the kinds of people we were ten and twenty years ago.

Joe DiMaggio will soon be forty. Then the joints will stiffen up a bit, the reflexes will slow up, the blood will become a little more sluggish.

Unlike the brain, which often keeps on growing until the end of life, the body cannot possibly keep up the pace.

Perhaps Joe the ballplayer has read and remembered that part in Ecclesiastes which Joe the fighter might have overlooked or forgotten.

To everything there is a season . . . a time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away.

And how many of all of us have forgotten it!

Anti-Bribe
Law SoughtLegislation Urged
For Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, March 17—(INS)—Allegheny County Judge Samuel A. Weiss had more background than many another witness when he urged legislation to stiffen penalties for bribes in athletic contests. . . . He not only has been close to high school and college athletics since his undergraduate days at Duquesne University but is a nationally-known football referee. . . . Weiss firmly believes that enactment of the proposed anti-bribe legislation will prevent in Pennsylvania a repetition of the New York city basketball scandals. . . . The bill proposes $10,000 fines or jail penalties for convicted offenders. . . . Weiss believes the scandal has shattered the ideals of many youths who look to college athletes for inspiration. . . . "In my opinion this will act as the greatest deterrent to the briber, the corruptist and the racketeer who prey upon the weakness of our college youth or those few lacking in real moral stamina," Weiss declared. "The New York expose," he said, "is a shocking reminder to the nation of our moral weakness."

The State Bureau of Highway Safety points to its February report of revocations and suspensions of drivers' licenses as a sign that irresponsible operators still travel the highways. . . . During the month, 945 licenses were withdrawn. . . . The total included 63 revocations and 882 suspensions. . . . The bureau restored 359 permits during February.

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D) Allegheny, is an unremitting foe of the State Commerce Department.

... He has been battling for its elimination from the governmental structure since shortly after it was established during the James administration 12 years ago. . . . Holland believes, and there is sentiment among several of his colleagues along the same line, that the work of the Commerce Department could well be performed by the constitutionally-established Department of Internal Affairs. Holland has another ripper bill in the legislative mill aimed at the department. . . . He believes that Secretary A. J. Sordani's announcement that the $15,000-a-year salary attached to the post will be turned over to charity supports the move to rip out the department. . . . Holland plans to read a copy of the department's payroll to the Senate to support his campaign. . . . Holland said he is intrigued by one classification, that of "Junior Clipper."

The administration of Governor Fine is working hard to live up to its campaign pledges. . . . So far, bills have been introduced in the General Assembly covering such pledges as fair employment practices, government on the local level as far as possible, civil defense, conservation and welfare. . . . The tax bills for the 1951-53 biennium will make their appearance shortly after Fine discloses his financial plan.

PITTSBURGH, March 19—(INS)—Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, the nation's fourth largest steel producer, kept its Pittsburgh plant closed again today and said the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will have to take the initiative to end the one-week-old shutdown. . . . The BRT wants a 12½-cent-an-hour raise for its members who work for the Monongahela connecting railroad, J&L subsidiary. The corporation, which shut down its plant last week, has offered 6-cents-an-hour.

THE FAMILY
SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

FAMILY TOGETHERNESS

Four-year-old Billy felt out of things. His baby sister was being christened. Mother and father were down at the front of the church with the baby. Billy had been left with a neighbor halfway back in the church. It was too much for him. Three times he started toward the front only to be shooed back by well-meaning grownups. Finally he made it and stood close to his parents as the ceremonies proceeded.

One might ask, "Why wasn't Billy permitted to be a part of the christening from the very beginning?" Probably merely because no one thought of it. Or perhaps they figured a four-year-old would get in the way.

It's important for a child to feel a completely accepted part of the family. Of course, there may be occasions when this isn't feasible. But even if it means a little later bedtime on occasion or taking part in activities that seem too grown up to be of interest, it's a good idea to stress family togetherness. TV Antenna Forests
Are 'Outmastered'

CAMDEN, N. J.—(INS)—Television antenna "forests" atop hotels, apartments and other multiple-unit buildings are fast disappearing from the American scene. Replacing the maze of individual antennas that now clutter roof tops are master antenna systems that can also be used to distribute AM and FM signals.

The master system, which was pioneered by RCA Victor, provides interference-free reception to all television receivers in a building by merely plugging the antenna connection into a room outlet. Here's how it works:

Separate antenna are "tuned" for each television channel in the receiving area. Signals are boosted by amplifiers and "fed" to room outlets through existing conduits by coaxial cable.

As many as 1,000 television receivers in a single building can be serviced by a master antenna system, RCA Victor points out.

New Housing
Area PlannedWestminster College Making Plans For Fraternity Row

Westminster college officials have announced the establishment of a new housing area for men which will provide sites for four fraternity houses and a new dormitory for men.

The new area consist of more than three acres of land south of the main campus and adjoining Russell Dormitory, a $500,000 men's residence now under construction. Part of the land was acquired through recent gifts by two Westminster alumni whose names were not released.

Included in the area will be Fraternity Row where four fraternity houses will be located in a quadrangle with parking facilities for each house. The area will be restricted with minimum costs set by the college to insure proper building plans.

No dates have been set for new construction in the area but three of the college's four fraternities have been raising money for several years with the idea of building permanent fraternity houses.

Under consideration by the college is a plan whereby the school would assume approximately 40 per cent of the building cost with the fraternity providing the remainder of the construction costs.

Both charges, according to the burgess, are the result of numbers writing activity in Albuquerque.

Seek Standards
For Trailer Parks
In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, March 19—(INS)—Establishment of statewide standards for trailer parks was urged today by Ben Vorsanger, of Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Trailer Coach and Park Association.

"Housing, manpower and civilian defense officials ask our help in solving some of the problems of mobility," he said. "We want to help, but the conditions under which we operate in Pennsylvania make it next to impossible."

Vorsanger estimated more than 40,000 people reside semi-permanently in more than 400 trailer parks in the state.

He endorsed bills introduced in the house of representatives last week by Beaver County Republicans John C. Miller and Robert K. Hamilton.

The measures set up uniform codes of sanitary and safety regulations, a state-wide system of licensing and permission for local governments to levy up to $26 a year in tax for each space in a trailer park.

The Sorosis club of New York, founded 1868, was the first permanent women's club in the United States.

Mineral Rights Held Reserved

Not Included In Purchase

Mineral rights that have been reserved in an earlier deed are still good even though the property is sold for taxes.

This is the gist of an opinion handed down by Judge W. Walter Brahm on Saturday. The case was that of Harold M. Kline against County Commissioners Joseph F. Travers, Harvey B. Bush, and Joseph W. Gilmore, also Francis J. Schweikert and Carl L. Schweikert. Kline purchased twelve acres in Shenango township in 1950 from the commissioners at tax sale. Years ago the deed to the property reserved the mineral rights. The Schweikerts claimed the coal under the property under the terms of an old deed and Kline sued the commissioners and the Schweikerts.

No taxes have ever been paid upon the coal rights and it is possible now that the commissioners may levy a tax on them.

INDIAN SAP

KENT, O.—(INS)—The laborious process of boiling down sap in early spring to make maple syrup resulted from the deep wisdom of Hiawatha, according to Don Fowler, of the Dave Tree Expert company. Nokomis, daughter of Hiawatha, accidentally discovered the confection by cutting the bark of a maple. The rich sap flowed and she tasted it. Hiawatha feared ready-made syrup would make squaws lazy. He then poured water over the trees to dilute it to the consistency we now know.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 19.—White thatched Charles Farrell is going to leave his swank racquet club in Palm Springs long enough to convince a new generation that he and Janet Gaynor are as terrific "Seventh Heaven" lovers today as they were 23 years ago.

The two screen stars are coming out of retirement to re-enact the tearful classic on Radio Theater next Monday night in a bit of casting that has Hollywood agog.

The CBS people are ready to put the SRO signs up at both performances of the creaky old romance that has been aired three times before over the Radio Theater, filmed twice and performed on the stage thousands of times. And now Hollywood is talking about filming it again because of the stir caused by the pending broadcast.

Janet Willing Farrell said that he was approached somewhat hesitantly by the radio people to do the air show, provided Janet was willing. Charlie, now a hale and sun-tanned 49, said he was all for it but he was doubtful about Gaynor. "She has sort of settled down after marrying Gilbert Adrian, the designer," he said, "and keeps out of the limelight."

Farrell reached Janet at her Palm Springs retreat not far from his racquet club and found her "just rarin' to go."

The Gaynor-Farrell team made silent screen and early-talkie history. Their "Seventh Heaven" was an immediate success and proved to be one of the all-time best money-makers. Later they did "Street Angel" and 13 others. Fans wrote them angry letters when they did not marry each other. Farrell having asked actress Virginia Valli to be his one and only.

Farrell gave up movie acting some time after he opened his luxury spot at Palm Springs 17 years ago. The place has been a paying proposition ever since.

Mayor Farrell has been mayor of Palm Springs for the past three years and he would rather talk about new civic projects in the desert village that boasts 490 private swimming pools (some gardenia scented) and nary a wading pond for the poor people.

"I have lost touch with the movie crowd," says Farrell. "I'm

TWO EGGS

Two eggs were talking to each other in the crate one night and one egg said that he was an individualist.

Mom is an individualist too. People say that the twins are as alike as two eggs but she knows better.

Tim likes pork chops but they make Tom sick.

Tim sneezes and wheezes if he sleeps on a feather pillow. Feathers don't bother Tom.

Tim will drink milk by the quart. She has to mix it with a lot of gule to get it into Tom.

Mom says that it takes a lot of that gule stuff to be an individualist for a family.

Susie is the worst of all to feed. She is inclined to be a little too fat—excuse it please! plump. She likes cream and mayonnaise and stuff like that but not hay and other vegetables.

K. Of C. Council At Passion Play

Knights of Columbus members of Council 512 sponsored a bus excursion to Pittsburgh Sunday to see the Passion Play—Veronica's Veil, portraying the life and death of Christ. The presentation was held in St. Michael's auditorium.

The group left New Castle at 11 a. m. An educational and interesting program was slated for the day. The Passion Play is presented every Saturday and Sunday during the Lenten season and has been playing to capacity audiences. It has proven to be one of the most beautiful and inspiring of Lenten presentations. Being particularly beneficial at this time—the beginning of Holy Week—the local K. of C. witnessed the play on Palm Sunday, the men deriving a keen sense of spiritual satisfaction during the showing.

The success of the trip insures further excursions of the type. Directed by Rev. Fr. Wendelin of the Passionist Fathers, the play is presented with the hope that it may bring the audience closer to the Passion of Christ.

The committee of the bus excursion included S. L. Dambrocia, chairman, who is grand knight of K. of C., and L. Harkins and T. A. Siglow, co-chairmen.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERI

If you're thinking of playing the stock market for the first time, pause long enough to consider the advice of Bernard Baruch, who is reputed to have made millions in his Wall Street manipulations. "If you are ready and able to give up everything else," warns Mr. Baruch, "and will study the whole history and background of the market and all important companies whose shares are listed on the board as carefully as a medical student studies anatomy, and will glue your nose to the ticker tape at the opening of every day of the year and never take it off till night; if you can do all that, and in addition have the cool nerve of a great gambler, the sixth sense of a clairvoyant, and the courage of a lion—you have a Chinaman's chance!"

Fellowship Group Planned In City

More than 100 men representing laity and clergy of the city assembled in the ballroom of The Castleton hotel on Saturday for a fellowship luncheon and planning meeting for the "Christ for Greater New Castle Fellowship".

The men were inspired by an address given by Dr. Hyman Appelmann of Kansas City, Mo., who spoke of the compassion of Christ. He related the various stories of compassion found in the Bible. He stated that pastors need compassion for souls. He told the group that each whether lay member or clergy had a personal responsibility to Christ. Revivals come only as men and women pray, the diners were told.

Clare M. Lutz, chairman of the Christian Business Men's committee, called on Rev. M. H. Hall of Portersville for the invocation. Special music was given by Rev. Charles Bergerson of the piano and the Eureka Jubilee Singers.

Addresses Made
Rev. Walter W. Gilliland of Slippery Rock, who aided in founding the local CBMC, was introduced and spoke briefly. He was followed by Rev. George Jones, chairman of the Christ for Greater New Castle Crusade, who reported that the work of the past few weeks was the greatest fellowship he had experienced in his life. He felt that there was much land yet to be possessed.

Rev. Jones read an invitation from the Ellwood City CBMC signed by 50 men urging the continuation of the fellowship and inviting Dr. Appelmann and the Eureka singers to return to the city in 1953. It was duly and unanimously voted by the group to form the "Christ for Greater New Castle Fellowship". The group would embody CBMC, Holiness Association, Ministerium and other Christian groups desiring to unite.

A motion was also made and seconded that Dr. Appelmann and the singers return to the city two years hence. The vote was unanimous. L. B. Round, president of the Pennsylvania Power Co., spoke briefly on the need of such a Christian fellowship organization.

Merchants Hear Discussion Of Price Control
James Wallace, regional director of the Price Stabilization Board, and Attorney Charles McKenna explained to Lawrence county merchants today the workings of the proposed price stabilization plan. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A., sponsored by the Greater New Castle association.

Roughly the plan is this: Retail merchants will be restricted to markups on their merchandise according to the markups they have previously made. If the cost of the manufacturer is raised 10 per cent, the jobber passes the increase along to the retail merchant and he in turn is permitted to raise his price accordingly. He cannot raise his prices because of a shortage or a sudden popularity of an item he sells.

The question of increases in clothing was discussed. In this line much Australian wool is used and there is no way to control the price of this wool. The United States raises about 300,000,000 pounds of wool annually, but uses about 600,000,000 pounds.

The Australian wool clip is put up at auction and buyers from the various nations bid for it. To get it to the American markets the bid must top those of bidders of other nations. Hence the difficulty of control of the retail price here.

Mr. McKenna answered numerous questions upon price policies and in answering quoted the government regulations. About 75 merchants attended.

Farm Roundup

Three Million In Fur Loans

Agriculture Dept. Has Sunk Big Sum In Fur Business

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—The agriculture department has sunk almost three million dollars in the fur business.

An agency of Secretary Brannan's department is authorized by congress to make loans to "any bona fide fur farmer" to enable him "to carry on present fur-farming operations."

Officials of the lending agency, the Farmers Home Administration, says the FHA has made individual loans ranging up to $300,000 to underwrite the production of minks, silver foxes and other fur bearing animals to be cut to fit the figures of the nation's glamour girls and stenographers.

These officials say that the average loan to "fur farmers" amounts to $6,721.

That is almost six times more than the average of loans made to "dirt" farmers who have suffered disasters from severe insect onslaughts, bad weather or other acts of nature. The average disaster loan is $1,253.

FHA officials admitted that fur farmers seeking public funds to "carry on" operations have a "few" times made "public appearances" before lending officials in Washington. But they point out that such appearances were routine.

A fur farmer desiring a government loan must prove that his credit is no good in private lending circles and that he needs the money to continue his operations.

Government officials check on his qualifications as a good risk.

Friends of Agriculture Secretary Brannan are letting it be known that the secretary has undertaken a big education job.

Brannan is said to have set himself the job of educating mobilization leaders like Charles E. Wilson and Eric Johnston to what the farm picture "really" is.

The secretary's associates say he found that the Mr. Bigs of mobilization had a limited man-on-the-street understanding of current farm problems, but he feels they are becoming somewhat more enlightened.

The bureau of agricultural economics reports that stocks of merchantable potatoes held by growers and local dealers near areas of production on March 1 were three per cent below the record large holdings a year ago.

Combined grower-dealer stocks at the beginning of this month are estimated at almost 88 million bushels, compared with more than 90 million bushels last year at that time.

Potatoes not included in this estimate are those held for use as food, seed or livestock feed on farms where grown and those potatoes bought by the government under price support operations and resold to growers.

Two Hurt In Traffic Crash

Accident Occurs At Allen And Taylor Streets

Miss Rose DeMarco, 21, of 728 Oak street is in the New Castle hospital, and Frank Snyder, Edinburg R. D. 1, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, because of a collision between motor vehicles at 2:45 p. m. Sunday at Taylor and Allen streets.

Snyder was operating a motorcycle east on Taylor street. Patsy DeMarco, also of 728 Oak street, was driving an auto from Allen street into Taylor street when the crash occurred.

The impact threw Snyder off his motorcycle through the air.

Miss DeMarco is a sister of Patsy DeMarco, driver of the auto.

At the Jameson Memorial hospital it was reported Snyder had a possible fracture of the skull, possible fracture of the lower jaw and left ankle.

At the New Castle hospital, it was reported Miss DeMarco suffered from shock and abdominal pains.

Further examination of the patients will be made today.

Estimate China And Russia Have 8,000,000 Under Arms

LONDON, March 19.—(INS)—The British war office has released a report estimating that Russia and Communist China have a total of more than eight million men under arms.

The detailed report by the war office said that the Russian army alone totals 2,800,000 men and that the number of men in the air force and navy bring the total armed services strength to more than four million men.

A similar estimate of the Chinese communist strength was made by the war office.

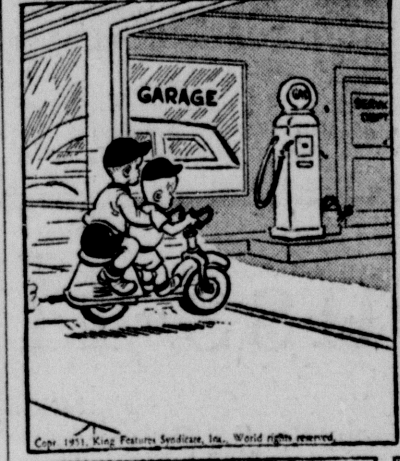

The report is in direct conflict with a Russian government claim that its military personnel has been cut back to the pre-war level of 2,500,000 men. The Soviets claim this is less than half the number of western soldiers under arms.

Child Is Treated For Broken Leg

Ronald Leroy Davis, aged six years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Davis, of R. D. 9, is recovering from the effects of a fracture of the right leg, received when he fell while running up the cellar steps at his home on March 9.

X-ray examination was made of the injury on the day the accident happened, and it did not reveal positive evidence of a fracture, so he was ordered put to bed at home, and another X-ray was taken a week later, when the fracture showed up. He had a cast applied at the Jameson Memorial hospital on Friday, March 16.

First Baptists To Sponsor European Displaced Family

At the First Baptist church, during the morning service, Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor, read a telegram received by Paul D. Weller on Saturday, regarding a displaced family from Europe to be sponsored by the Baptist church.

The telegram was from David Cassat, Church World Services of New York, and was as follows: "Wassilew family arriving New York aboard 'General Blatchford' about March 22, will you meet your railroad station, will notify you arrival time at New Castle, please wire immediately". Mr. Weller states that arrangements have been made to meet the family, when advised of the station and time of arrival.

About a year and a half ago, a committee was selected out of the official board of the church—Paul D. Weller, chairman, James McCann, Mrs. Frank Hay, Mrs. Ina Gardner, John Chapman, which requested to sponsor a displaced family, through the Baptist board of New York City.

Another family had been offered a year ago, but in some manner they were lost track of, and this family was finally substituted.

Parents Plan Party Meeting

Graduation Party For Seniors Looms

Plans for a graduation party for the seniors of the New Castle senior high school are expected to get started Tuesday night, March 20.

A meeting of parents has been called for the Greater New Castle Association office for 8 o'clock at which time the idea will be discussed and if it meets approval, preliminary plans will be drawn. At the moment the plan is in a rather nebulous stage. The idea of a graduation party, something like that given the 1950 class has been discussed by a number of the parents and it was suggested that a meeting of parents be called.

Parents Invited

No officers have been selected, no committee chairmen, the meeting Tuesday night being merely to explore the idea and get started if it seems feasible.

Parents of all the students in the 1951 class are invited to attend and to present their ideas upon the subject.

In 1951 such a party was staged and was a success. The idea back of such a party is the same here as it is in many other cities of the United States—to provide sufficient wholesome entertainment upon the last night of the senior class being together that all of the class will stay together until it is time to go home, instead of driving the highways in the late hours, with possible accidents.

closing service, while in the afternoon he related the story of his life and conversion using "From Lawyer to Gospel Preacher" as his theme.

Sunday evening's service, which was opened with a 15-minute period of spirituals sung by the well known Eureka Jubilee Singers of Chicago, pleased the great throng. Rev. John W. Troy of Winona Lake, Ind., directed the choir in the singing of its final number and also led the audience in singing. He expressed his appreciation to all who helped in any way in the campaign to make it such a great success.

Prior to delivering his last sermon, Dr. Appelmann gave recognition to three who he felt worked hard to make the campaign a success. He called Rev. George Jones, general chairman; Clare Lutz, second vice chairman, and Woodson W. Collins, publicity director, to the platform to personally commend them for their work. He lauded all the other committee chairmen and workers for their high spirit of cooperation and unflinching service.

Rev. Jones Speaks

Rev. George Jones likewise expressed his thanks for the spirit of cooperation, thanking all the committees for their help. He stated that as soon as all the bills have been submitted, a financial statement of receipts and expenditures would be published in The News.

Dr. Appelmann in his final evangelistic appeal to the revival audience spoke from 1 Corinthians 1:18, "For the preaching of the cross to them that perish is foolishness." It is not what race you are, he spoke, but are your garments washed, in the blood of Christ for the remission of sin? He enumerated three things which he verse declared: the supreme declaration about man, the su-

Pirates Win Two From Coast Teams

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 19.—(INS)—Pittsburgh rattled 27 hits, good for 27 runs, off minor league pitching to win morning and afternoon games yesterday. Oakland lost to the Pirates, 15-10, during the six-inning morning battle in nearby Oakland and San Francisco was subdued, 12-8, during the regulation afternoon contest in the bay city.

Rookie Paul Pettit did better with his bat than his pitching arm against Oakland. He rapped a grand slam home run during Pittsburgh's 11-run first inning. But the A's cuffed him for ten hits and eight runs in five innings. Con Dempsey worked five in-

The vast Sunday afternoon audience which started to fill the great auditorium shortly before 1 o'clock, heard again an excellent gospel musical program which opened with the unusual singing of the Jubilee Singers. The choir, directed by Rev. Troy, was well received. Rev. Howard Sartell offered the prayer. Rev. Troy effectively sang "Soon He Shall Come".

Dr. Appelmann kept his audience at attention as he related the story of his life during the afternoon program. He revealed that at present he has invitations which will keep him occupied for the next five years preaching the gospel.

The final days of the campaign, the offerings were given to Dr. Appelmann as a love gift. He received $4,639.04 for his services here. Due to financial restrictions, he will just receive expenses in England where he will be speaking the next three months. The offering for Rev. Troy, song evangelist, was $1,585.11.

Saturday night, an especially large audience heard Dr. Appelmann speak on "The Second Coming of Christ". The service featured the special musical program. Many responded again to the invitation.

Nearly 2,000 responded during the entire 21 days of Dr. Appelmann's appeals.

The Christian Business Men hope to continue on the revival fellowship and have voted to create an organization which will function in the days ahead, which will be the means of uniting the churches in the effort.

Legislators To Consider New State Budget

Assemblyman White Makes Weekly Report On Legislative Action

In a summation of what was done in the General Assembly in the past week Assemblyman Robert M. White said today:

"We have been told that the governor's budget will be presented to us this week. It will receive most of our attention in the weeks to follow and my report to you will concern it rather than a great mass of minor bills which come before us."

Bills Passed

"During the week of March 5 the following bills passed the house which would be of interest to our people:

"House bill 331: Extends existing law requiring medical examiners to be appointed by school boards so that medical examiners may be surgeons, osteopaths and osteopathic surgeons as well as qualified medical doctors.

"House bill 363: Under existing law a bank may invest the money of several persons in one mortgage loan. Each person will then own a fractional interest in that mortgage. This bill allows the banks and trust officers to do the same thing with respect to government bonds.

"Senate bill 94: Allows the deputy recorder of deeds to take acknowledgments as notary publics are allowed to do now.

Action Last Week

"This past week the following bills were passed:

"Senate bill 111: Increases pay of jurors from $5 a day to $7 a day and the mileage from 6c per mile to 7c.

"House bill 274: Binds minor wives to contracts they make under the terms of the Federal Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944. Today some servicemen cannot get G. I. loans because a minor wife can renounce her signature to a contract when she becomes of age. Banks will not loan money on the faith of a contract that cannot be enforced.

"House Bill 441: 'Allows a state certificate to be introduced in our courts of law to prove that a license was or was not issued to an individual. This eliminates the expense of sending a state employee to our courts to so testify.

"House bill 459: School districts may charge tuition to students residing in other districts. This act allows this tuition to be based on certain expenses in addition to those already considered.

"House bill 483: Allows school boards to pay expenses of principals, school nurses and teachers attending conventions which further the educational program of the school district.

"Veterans bonus claims: Veterans who have not received payment of their bonus claims and want information concerning the claim. Do not write to the Bonus Bureau as they have no correspondence staff and cannot answer your letters. Write to me.

ACCURATE BREEDING RECORDS IMPORTANT

Dairy cows must freshen at regular 12-month intervals if they are to produce milk efficiently and economically.

For this reason, accurate breeding records must be kept by every dairyman. Artificial breeding technicians assist with these records, but the dairyman must see that each service is entered on the stable breeding chart.

These records should be studied from time to time in order to determine which cows are not settling promptly. The time required to get a cow settled is of primary importance. This may mean that a cow which returns for three or four services at three-week intervals is a less serious cause for concern than one which returns only once with an unusually long heat cycle.

As a rule, little can be gained by breeding a cow within six weeks after calving. The chances of conception on first service are much greater if at least 60 days are allowed between calving and breeding.

DAVEY APPLE

NORTH GRAFTON, Mass. — (INS)—A new variety of apple as rugged as a Baldwin, luscious as a McIntosh and more prolific than either has been developed after 25 years of experimenting by S. Lohrop Davenport. The new apple is called the "Davey," the nickname its developer carried through the University of Massachusetts about 40 years ago.

Bedloe's Island, upon which stands the Statue of Liberty, is owned by the federal government.

BACHELOR DINNER

"Who gives the bachelor dinner before a wedding? Who is invited? When should it be given?"

Answer: A night or two before his wedding, the groom (if he is a bachelor; not a widower or a divorcee) gives a dinner—the last he will ever be able to give during his single blessedness—for his best man, ushers and any other of his intimate friends. It is his farewell to bachelorhood. This may take place at a club, a restaurant or at his own home. During this function, the groom should present each of his attendants with a gift, which may be cuff links (the usual gift), gold or silver cigarette cases, gold pencils leather billfolds or card cases. The gift to the best man is usually slightly more valuable than those presented to the ushers.

The bachelor dinner is for men only and if the groom gives it in his own home, the women of the family should not be present even to greet the guests. Toward the end of the dinner, the bridegroom should rise and hold his glass up saying: "To the bride." Every guest should rise and drink the toast.

Otherwise, the "bachelor dinner" is exactly like any other dinner, the features of which depend upon the finances and the desires of the bridegroom.

Question: (1) What form of salutation should children be taught to use when meeting elders? (2) Should children be permitted to call their mothers' and fathers' friends by their Christian names?

Answer: (1) "How do you do, Mrs. Brown." "Hello" should be reserved for their intimate playmates.

(2) No. They should call acquaintances of their parents Mr. Smith or Mrs. Smith. Children are frequently trained to call their parents' intimate friends "Aunt" and "Uncle."

Thousands of arthritic and rheumatic victims, perhaps you, could easily be spared untold agony if they only took IMDRIN. Young Connie Mack Out For Penn Nine PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—(INS)—The University of Pennsylvania baseball nine is giving Connie Mack a tryout at second base, and there is a good chance that he'll get the berth.

But Coach Howie Dallmar quickly points out that the candidate is not the 88-year-old baseball great. It's his grandson, listed in the university directory as Cornelius Alexander McGillicuddy, 3rd.

Young Connie is the son of Roy Mack, executive vice-president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics.

A ball player's salary is not disclosed for a number of reasons. In the first place what a man is paid for doing a job of work is his business and his employer's.

Report Phony Tens Passed

Take a good look at those ten dollar bills you have in your pocket (if any).

For the past week there has been a number of queer tens floating around the city but Saturday seemed to be bargain day for the gentlemen who "shove the queer" if you'll pardon the colloquialism.

Several merchants turned in ten dollar bills in their deposits this morning at local banks, only to find that the tens were about as worthless as a Russian promise, it is reported.

Phony tens have been circulating over the United States, it is reported.

Medure Wants One Lifeboat Here

Prior to the city loaning one of its three life saving boats to the county, or other political subdivisions, Joe Medure, councilman, wants assurance the city will not be left without a lifeboat, should a water accident occur within the city.

The fire department has a boat with an outboard motor. The police have a heavy aluminum boat, without an outboard motor, and the streets department also has a boat, without a motor.

According to Solicitor Robert White, the city would loan the boats to the county, or some other district, providing they manned it and assumed all responsibilities in case of accident to men manning it.

It was then that Councilman Medure said he wanted at least one boat left in the city, and the decision to loan the boat, or boats, was delayed.

The western range lands comprise almost 728 million acres in 17 states.

Duke Of Windsor Writes Memoirs

NEW YORK, March 19—(INS)—His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor, awaits the publication of his memoirs "A King's Story," in mid-April with the mingled hope and trepidation that is the lot of all authors, of high or low degree. "It's offered to the public with great humility," the former king of England said as we sat in the Waldorf Towers apartment that the Duke and Duchess call home in New York.

Then the Duke added, in the immemorial manner of all authors who feel their lives' blood rather than ink written into the book: "I shall be eager to see the critics' reviews; the author's nightmare—or his pleasure."

Not Ghost-Written

Ghosts have had no hand in the preparation of "A King's Story," which is the culmination of almost four years' hard work on the part of the Duke.

"The book is not ghost-written. Most definitely not!" The Duke said emphatically, in kinship with all authors who have suffered the trials of composition and wish credit for their grateful for it and to all those who were so helpful to me. In the foreword of the book, I list the names of all the persons who have helped me, from editors and literary advisors to researchers and secretaries.

"I am very poor at punctuation," the Duke said, "and I am not a very good speller, either. That I had to leave to others," the author admitted, with the old, flashing smile that charmed multitudes the world round when, as Prince of Wales, he was the salesman of the British Empire and everybody's Prince charming.

Wanted To Tell Story Correctly
What compelling motive prompted the Duke to write "A King's Story?" the answer is simple.

"I wrote the book because I wanted to tell my story correctly. It has been told incorrectly so often," the Duke explained, without rancor or bitterness.

The one-volume memoir spans the Duke's life from birth to his dramatic abdication and his departure from Great Britain to marry his American-born Duchess. The book concludes with the Duke aboard a destroyer of the Royal Navy which carried him away in December, 1936, following the constitutional crisis which led to his abdication earlier that month.

The Duke, who now has about him the relaxed air of an author who has finally got a book out of his system and into the hands of the publisher, revealed as he talked, that no detail of the work, from writing to jacket, escaped him.

Did Most of Work

"I decided upon all the chapter headings and I wrote the caption for everyone of the 125 pictures in the book," he said with justifiable pride.

"Here, let me show you how it will look," he added, and with an author's alacrity, got up, crossed the room and came back to drop in my lap a dummy of the book, which is approximately 425 pages in length.

Handsomeness, indeed, is the word for the binding, dignified black with the cover chastely embossed with a trio of golden coats of arms. The first coat is that of Edward P (Prince of Wales), the second that of Edward VI (King-Emperor), and the third that of Edward (Duke of Windsor).

"What a really handsome cover," I exclaimed.

"My own idea," the Duke replied.

HARDENED EARS

WOONSOCKET, R. I.—During a recent cold spell it was not unusual for Woonsocket Hospital to treat outdoor workers for frostbite. But Lionel Turcotte, 20, who works indoors, showed up with both ears frozen. He works in the hardening room of an ice cream plant.

STACK PAINTING

EVERETT, Mass.—(INS)—Now they're using helicopters in painting smoke stacks. The Monsanto Chemical company used this type of plane to attach a rope fall to the big stack at its Everett plant. This saved the cost of expensive scaffolding normally required.

'Fireproof Oil' Once Big Seller

NEW ALBANY, Miss.—(INS)—A filling station operator at New Albany attracted considerable customer interest recently by showing an old price list that included 'Fireproof Oil (Best Oil Made)'—13 cents a gallon.

Many of the curious, thereby, learned that gasoline wasn't always the valuable product it is today.

Back in 1894, when A. H. Turner's antiquated price list was issued, there was little use for gasoline. It was strictly a by-product of kerosene.

The reference to 'fireproof oil,' according to Turner, indicated that the gasoline had been taken completely out of the kerosene. He said that some manufacturers 'stretched' their kerosene product a bit with gasoline, and that the mixture was dangerously inflammable.

The Mounties hammered away at the Greyhounds lead throughout the second quarter and just before the first half drew to a close Bob McKinley tipped one in to tie the count at 22-22. Fouls by Bill Sholler and Chuck Rogers made it 23-23 at the half ended.

Mt. Jackson grabbed the lead as the second half got under way when Joe Douth swished one from the corner. McKinley followed with a foul to make it 26-23. Tom Hartwell tied it up for the Greyhounds with a field goal and a foul, but McKinley scored again for the Mounties and New Wilmington never again caught up with the winners.

Brigham Young Cougars Seek 1951 Basketball Grand Slam

By JOHN BARRINGTON

(N.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 19.—(INS)—Brigham Young's grand slam-conscious Cougars take on a man-sized job this week when they attempt an assault on the NCAA basketball championship.

The Cougars, who won the National Invitation Championship when they trounced Dayton, 62-43 Saturday night, face a much more formidable field in the talent-studded NCAA tourney. Included in the field are such national stickouts as Kentucky, Oklahoma A. & M., Kansas State, Illinois, St. John's Colombia, and North Carolina State.

Brigham Young swings into action Wednesday night in Kansas City in a first round game with San Jose State. Play in the eastern regionals gets under way tomorrow night in New York and Raleigh, N. C.

The tournament line up follows:
 Eastern Regionals:
 Tomorrow—At Madison Square Garden, Columbia vs. Illinois and St. John's vs. Connecticut; at Raleigh, Kentucky vs. Louisville and North Carolina State vs. Villanova.

Semi-finals will be played Thursday and the finals on Saturday in New York.

Western Regionals:
 Wednesday—At Kansas City, Kansas State vs. Arizona and Brigham Young vs. San Jose State.

Thursday—At Kansas City, Oklahoma A. & M. vs. Montana State and Texas A. & M. vs. Washington.

The Western semi-finals are scheduled for Kansas City on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

The East vs. West championship game will be played Tuesday, March 27 in Minneapolis.

Kentucky Favored
 The Kentucky Wildcats, who have a 27-2 record for the season, loom as the favorite to win the Eastern laurels. North Carolina State will have to do without the services of three of its stars, Sam Ranzino, Vic Bubbas and Paul Horvath, who are all four-year men.

St. John's, State and Arizona were given rough times in the NIT, although the top-seeded Brooklyn redmen managed to win third place with a 70-68 win over Seton Hall in a double overtime consolation game.

Arizona and North Carolina State were ousted from the NIT by Dayton and Seton Hall respectively.

Third-ranked Brigham Young buried Dayton under a torrid second half display, sparked by Roland Minson, the tournament's outstanding player. Minson scored 26 points to run his three-game total to 80 points and his all-around adeptness earned him the most valuable-player award.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

FUSS IS BEING stirred up because the National Boxing Commission created Johnny Bratton, by virtue of his Chicago win over Charlie Fusari, as welterweight champion. They point out the NBA apparently forgot Welterweight Kid Gavilan. . . . Ray Robinson's class is something every fighter would like to possess. He is one fighter who can make fans, who claim there are no more fighters of class, eat their words. . . . Castlewood Rod & Gun Club will adopt by-laws, and name officers, Wednesday night, at the fire-house. The meeting is open to interested persons. One of the club's proposals is to create a better relationship between hunters and farmers. . . . Wes Davy has been conspicuous by his absence from the main stem for weeks, which causes one to believe he is hermiting this winter. . . . Although his first love was football, Tip Richards has made good as a basketball coach, his Strizis having won a Recreation League title. . . . Penn State will enter its Eastern title-winning team in the National Collegiate wrestling championships at Lehigh U., March 22-24. Two Clearfield boys are on the team, namely, 137 pound Champion Don Maurey and Captain and heavyweight runner-up Homer Barr. . . . Nittany Lions boxers will participate in the National Collegiate championships at Michigan State, April 5-7, according to Tutor Eddie Sulowski, who fought professionally under the name "Sulk" and who succeeded the late Leo Houck, middleweight, who boxed George Chip.

Its objectives are to advance the interests of bow hunters in better hunting technique, game conservation and safety. Wayne Sines, now and then, uses a bow and arrow in quest of game. . . . George Barrett is yearning for sunshine so he can drop a line into the creeks. . . . Lawrence County Sportsman's Association will eat fried fish Tuesday night in the Ecclesian hall and also distribute 'ducats' to members who are hustling to make the association's April 12 banquet in the Cathedral a huge success. . . . Fish Warden Bob Betts would welcome the assistance of sportsmen at 11:30 a.m., Tuesday at Elliot's Mills, 2 p.m. Wednesday at Pulaski and at 1:30 p.m. Good Friday at Taylor Run to help stock trout in the Slippery Rock, Deer Creek and Taylor Run. . . . Cleveland's Eastern Division leaders will meet the Buffalo Bisons, winners of the Western Division race, in a four-out-of-seven-game series.

Hershey plays Indianapolis and Pittsburgh plays Springfield in a best-out-of-five series. The winners of these matches will tangle for the right to meet the winner of the Cleveland-Buffalo series in the series to determine the league champion.

The Barons wound up the regular season last night by dropping a 6-5 contest to the Capitals at Indianapolis.

In the other final regular season tilts last night, Springfield beat Providence, 5-2; Buffalo beat Pittsburgh, 6-4, and St. Louis stopped Cincinnati, 6-4.

Americans spend $400,000,000 a year on foreign travel.

McMillin Chooses Millner As Aide

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—(INS)—It will be a "teacher-pupil" combination when Wayne V. Millner, former Notre Dame and National League star, joins the Philadelphia Eagles as assistant to Bo McMillin, the new coach.

McMillin named Millner over the weekend as his first assistant, saying he had followed Millner's exploits ever since 1936 when he tutored him in the college all-star game.

Millner was All-American end in 1934 and 1935, and was the key figure in that memorable 1935 thriller with Ohio State, when the Irish came from behind and won, 18-13, when Miller caught Billy Shakespeare's last second pass.

He entered the pro ranks with the Redskins as an end, then became assistant to head coach Turk Edwards, and last year was a scout and coach for the Baltimore Colts.

BRAVES SIGN MUELLER

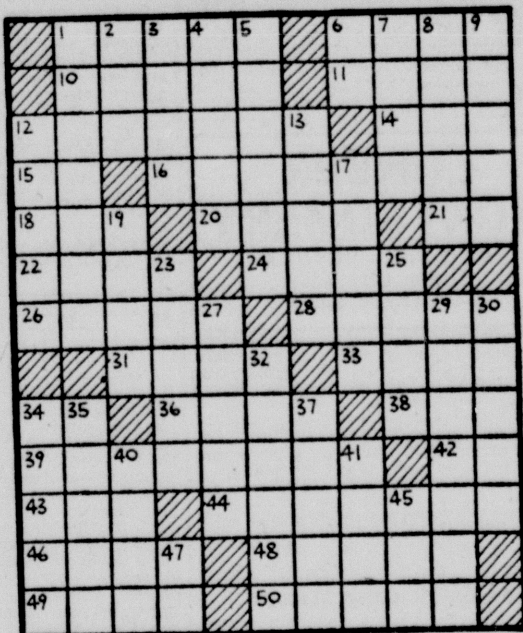

BRADENTON, Fla., March 19.—(INS)—Ray Mueller, who made his major league debut with the Boston Braves in 1935, today was headed back to the Tribe fold.

The catcher, released by the Pittsburgh Pirates a few days ago, accepted an offer by Braves General Manager John Quinn to rejoin the Boston club and will join the team the latter part of this week.

gorder et ux, dated August 1st, 1877, and recorded in Mortgage Book Volume 5, page 10 of the Office of the Recorder of Deeds in and for Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, which mortgage, while presumed to have been paid, has never been satisfied or recorded, thereby creating a cloud on the title to all of three certain pieces of or parcel of land owned by the Plaintiffs in Hickory Township, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, collectively bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the northwest corner thereof at a point at the intersection to lands now or formerly of Samuel Stunkard, thence by same S. 2

30' W. 83.5 feet to lands formerly of McConahay, thence westerly by same, a distance of 20 feet to the lot of point, thence by lands known as "Lakewood" along the old donation line, S. 89° 10' W. 54 1/2 feet to a cherry tree; thence S. 37° 17'
W. a distance of 100 feet to the lake at the old donation line; thence by same, S. 89° 10' W. 268 feet to the low water mark of the Neshannock Creek; thence in a northerly direction along the eastern low water line of said Neshannock Creek to the place of beginning.

Plaintiffs in said complaint further prayed that said Court do order directing the Recorder of Deeds to enter satisfaction on the record of said mortgage. You are hereby notified and required to plead to said complaint and the matters therein averred within twenty days of the date of this advertised notice, and, upon your failure to do so, a judgment in default shall be taken against you, and an order will be made directing the Recorder of Deeds to enter satisfaction on the record of said mortgage, and you, and each of you will be forever barred from asserting any right, lien or interest by reason of said mortgage in said lands, unless you commence an action to foreclose thereon within thirty (30) days after entry of such judgment or show cause why said action should not be taken.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Trading Quiet

NEW YORK, March 19.—(INS)—
The stock market weakened today in quiet trading. All sections turned heavy after a somewhat irregular opening and losses ran to about a point.

Volume in the first hour was only 270,000 shares, a little more than half of the hourly average of last week.

At 11 a. m. industrials were off
$1.29 in the averages, rails off 55 cents and utilities off 4 cents.

There was nothing in the news to account for the softness. Earnings, dividends and other corporate news continued good.

The weakest issues included
Southern Railroad, National Steel,
Dow Chemical, Celanese, Zenith
Radio, Admiral Corporation and J. I. Case. Declines exceeded a point.

Steels and motors lost fractions.
rails softened all along the line and prices were easier in coppers, chemicals, aviation and rubbers.

U. S. government bonds held unchanged; corporate liens showed irregular results. Commodities turned lower.
